

France Joins USSR Stand On UN Costs

Reject Proposals
For Financing
Peace-Keeping

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France lined up Tuesday with the Soviet Union in rejecting a World Court opinion that all U.N. members should pay for peace-keeping operations threatening the organization with bankruptcy.

U.S. sources expressed disappointment and regret over the stand taken by Andre Ganem, the French delegate, in the assembly's 110-nation Budgetary Committee. Ganem restated also French refusal to pay any part of the $10-million monthly U.N. Congo effort.

U. S. Joins Britain

Both the United States and Britain are pressing for adoption of a resolution affirming the court's advisory opinion that peace-keeping operations in the Congo and Middle East are expenses which the U.N. charter says must be shared by all.

But Ganem said he was under instructions to inform the committee that the De Gaulle government cannot go along with its Western Allies on the issue.

He said his government cannot accept World Court jurisdiction in interpreting the U.N. charter, and that his government will not accept any obligations except those ordered by the Security Council. The same view was expressed Monday to the committee by the Soviet Union.

France In Arrears

France has paid its assessments for the U.N. force in the Middle East but is over $11 million in arrears in Congo payments.

The Soviet Union is almost $25.5 millions in arrears on the Congo and almost $6 million on the Middle East force, which it refuses also to support.

Failure of the Soviet Union, France and others to pay for the Congo has put the United Nations about $130 million in the red. An emergency bond issue has raised about $150 million expected to carry the organization along until April. U.S. financial support has been a major bulwark in both the peace-making operations and the emergency bond issue.

Patrick Wall, the British delegate, called attention of the committee to the warning by Secretary-General U Thant that the survival of the United Nations is at stake.

Man Arrested For Threat To Kennedy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested a Birmingham resident Tuesday on a charge that he threatened the life of President Kennedy in a letter.

He was identified as James B. Hubka, 20.

In a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Louise O. Charlton, Hubka said he wrote the letter. He was held under $25,000 bond.

The agents said the letter was sent to J. Walter Yagley of the Department of Justice.

Hubka twice asked Mrs. Charlton if he could explain his actions, but she refused.

Mrs. Charlton said she was not interested in his motives, that they are "between you and your God."

If convicted, Hubka could be fined $1,000 or sent to prison for five years, or both.

Nehru Tells Parliament Ships On Way

Indian Troops Make Cautious Border Probes

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

NEW DELHI (AP)—A Soviet promise that token MiG21 jet fighters are on the way gave the Indians a lift Tuesday—more psychological than military—in their fight against the Red Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament a few of the MiGs will come in December of this year, a few in 1963 and a few in 1964—scarcely enough or in time to play an important military role.

Nehru's announcement—coming 13 days after Peking's unilateral cease-fire brought a suspension of shooting on the Himalayan front—ended weeks of speculation whether Moscow would live up to its long-standing bargain.

High Soviet sources in Moscow had said the deal was off shortly after the Chinese launched their drive across the border—but the Kremlin attitude toward the Chinese attack has changed.

The Soviet determination to go through with its aid to India seemed likely to sharpen the skirmishing between Moscow and Peking which has been growing more hostile since the Russian setback in the Cuban crisis.

Indian leaders showed suspicion over Peking's long-range intentions along the border despite Chinese claims Communist forces are withdrawing.

Indian troops have been cautious about probing to determine the extend of the Communist pull-back promised on Dec. 1. Indian forces appeared under orders to avoid provoking the Reds to get more time to build up their own battered defenses.

What McNamara wants to do is drop four Reserve and four National Guard divisions along with a net 731 smaller Guard and Reserve units made obsolete by technological and tactical progress.

No Manpower Cut

However, this will not mean a cut in the currently authorized Guard-Reserve strength of 700,000. Most of the men in the units wiped out will be taken into 11 new brigades and supporting units or will go into six first-priority National Guard divisions.

The goal is to have them form a force trained and ready to join the Army's 16 regular divisions within eight weeks after a call to active duty.

The remaining, low-priority divisions—17 Guard and 6 Reserve—will be kept at about 50 per cent strength.

McNamara ordered the four Reserve divisions and 393 lesser Reserve units eliminated immediately—an action he can take because the Reserve is completely under federal control.

Governors Involved

But he had to move more slowly on the Guard overhaul. The Pentagon notified the various governors of the plan to eliminate the four divisions and 338 lesser units and appealed for their cooperation.

The law provides that a governor must approve any change in the Guard within his state.

Soviet Union Kills Hope Of Early Test Ban

Black Box Robots Unsatisfactory To U.S.-British

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union killed all Western hopes Tuesday that an emergency nuclear test ban agreement could be rushed into operation by the end of the year.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told a subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference there will never be any agreement so long as the West insists on inspection of suspicious underground disturbances.

For their part, U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British Minister of State Joseph B. Gober reiterated that a quota of on-site inspections must be included in any system ending tests.

Dean declared the installation of black boxes—robot seismic detectors—would not abolish the need for such inspections or completely replace manned control posts.

He said a network of the boxes, if made tamper proof, would have some auxiliary value in recording earth disturbances. But he challenged Tsarapkin's claim that such a network, plus existing national detection systems, would eliminate the need for on-site inspections.

The subcommittee met for 2½ hours. The participants agreed only that the nuclear negotiations were stalemate.

Western diplomats said privately Tsarapkin's rejection of emergency test ban proposals advanced by the nonatomic powers undoubtedly reflected a new stiff attitude in Moscow.

Westerners said Tsarapkin apparently is under instructions to frustrate any new moves in the nuclear negotiations, and keep the conference frozen.

The disarmament conference is required to make a progress report to the U.N. General Assembly Dec. 10.

Wife Sues Spouse For Five Million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sara Bartholomae wants $5 million from her husband, whose friends once called him "admiral" because he had so many yachts.

Mrs. Bartholomae, 47, told a divorce court on Monday her husband, William A. Bartholomae, 69, made millions in oil, cattle, and gold mines.

Bartholomae is contesting the suit. His attorney said the wife signed a premarital agreement waiving her rights to her husband's property.

Pope Appoints Medical Director

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII has appointed Prof. Mario Fontana as new director of Vatican medical services.

Prof. Fontana, 59, replaced Dr. Filippo Rocchi, the Pope's personal physician and director of the services who died of cerebral hemorrhage Nov. 11.

Professor Fontana, head physician at Rome's state-operated hospitals, has been a member of the Vatican medical corps since 1936.

Talk Saved Life

Mrs. Fay Weatherred, night chief telephone operator at Houston, Texas, talked desperately for an hour and a half to save the life of a 19-year-old West University Place girl. The girl dialed "Operator" and said, "I'm going to kill myself." Mrs. Weatherred learned the girl's name and address. The girl said she had taken 36 sleeping pills. Police found her near death, with the telephone receiver next to her ear. At a Houston hospital, attendants pumped her stomach and released her last night. (AP Photofax)

Most Of Britain Blanketed By Heavy Crippling Fog

LONDON (UPI) — The worst fog of the season blanketed most of Britain Tuesday, crippling air, sea, rail and road traffic and reviving memories of the 1952 "killer smog" which took about 4,000 lives.

The Health Ministry cautioned persons suffering from respiratory ailments to see their doctors or stay indoors. Physicians issued stay-home warnings to patients with chest and lung complaints.

The suffocating fog cut visibility in London and other areas down to a mere 15 feet. The weather bureau warned that no immediate break was in sight and that it could get worse.

"It's the first really bad one of the season," a spokesman said. He predicted dense fog through Wednesday.

Easier On Salesmen

Thus, a salesmen will not have to make a separate list of such miscellaneous expenses as taxi fares, local telephone calls, gasoline for his car, and parking fees. A person travelling on business will not have to name the restaurants where he eats, provided the meal cost does not include entertainment of others.

Tips will not have to be listed as a separate expense. They can be included as part of the cost of a meal.

Another change is that the time of business meals will not have to be given. A detailed breakdown of the use of facilities such as clubs will no longer be required.

Gives Serious Study

Caplin also said that the IRS is giving "serious study" to the controversial proposal requiring those on expense accounts to get an itemized receipt for expenditures of $10 or more. He said this item "may raise special problems for some taxpayers."

Many speakers at the public hearing Tuesday contended the $10 standard was too low. One suggestion was that the limit be raised to $25.

Spokesmen for the professions, unions and industry complained that the new rules would saddle businesses with unreasonable bookkeeping chores.

Russia May Modify German Treaty Terms

WARSAW (UPI) — The Soviet Union will sign a German peace treaty next year but the West will be able to keep its garrisons in Berlin, Communist sources said Tuesday.

Western rights of access and stationing of troops in West Berlin no longer will be based on occupation rights, but on a negotiated annex to the peace treaty, these sources said.

Their interpretation of coming events in Berlin were closely in accord with East German hints, published late last week, that Western withdrawal from Berlin no longer was a fundamental condition of a Berlin settlement.

So far, there have been no public official statements here suggesting Western rights in Berlin could be preserved.

But Polish Communist leaders have been referring in public only to a peace treaty with "both German states" rather than threatening a treaty with Communist East Germany which would end Western rights in Berlin.

The Soviet Union would make only one major condition in negotiating a Berlin agreement with the West, these highly informed sources said.

The condition would be that no West German army troops have access to West Berlin or be stationed in the city.

Since the stationing of West German units in Berlin has never been an Allied aim, Western diplomats here considered the issue might be one that would be artificially created by the Soviets for bargaining purposes.

Motorist Dodges Driving Exam

CHELTENHAM, England (AP) — By getting a new learner's permit every six months, Henry Dymock drove on British roads for 21 years without ever straining his nerves over the tough formal driver's test.

He found the inconvenience of always having to be accompanied by a qualified driver a small price to pay for the dodge.

Officials finally tumbled to Henry and made him submit to examination.

The 60-year-old construction man, who owns two cars, passed the test in less than an hour.

"My wife will be delighted," he said. "What's more, I did it on my first attempt."

Soviet Mars Probe On Flight Path

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Mars probe was 5,716,000 miles from the earth Tuesday and should pass Mars at a distance of 115,800 miles, the news agency Tass reported.

Tass did not say when the probe, Mars I, would pass the planet.

Radio contact with the rocket during the past week was "good," Tass said. It added scientists on the ground checked the flight course and received information on how the probe's equipment was working.

Quality Standards

To reach the goal of making the Guard and Reserve "an elite outfit," the source said, four quality standards will be set up:

1. Recruiting standards for the Guard and Reserve will be as high as those for the regular Army.

2. At least 90 per cent of the men in all Reserve and Guard units will have to meet specific qualifications in military skills.

3. No units will be allowed to exceed their authorized strengths.

4. Men who fail to attend drills or to perform satisfactorily until made subject to priority induction into the Army under the draft.

The objective, the source said, is to "give us the best people and cut down on turbulence and turmoil."

More Summer Training

One essential element of the plan is to increase the training of "fillers," men available to bring units to full strength, who have had only short periods of active duty. This will mean more Reservists going to summer training.

The Pentagon source acknowledged that the strict standards will make it difficult to reach the 700,000 figure set by Congress for the Guard and Reserve. As of the end of September, the total was 665,282—389,738 in the Guard and 275,544 in the Reserve.

The Army said it will reorganize the Reserve force into 6 combat divisions, 13 training division, 4 brigades, 2 maneuver area commands and 2,155 other units. The revamped Guard will include 23 combat divisions, 7 brigades and about 1,743 other units—with the six priority divisions raised to about 11,000 men.

New brigades which eliminated divisions will form, will each consist of 4,500 men plus a headquarters of 200.

Skeleton headquarters — about 150 men — will be retained from the eliminated divisions.

In all, some 1,800 units will be wiped out and more than 1,000 new type units will be formed, making a net loss of 731 units.

10 Policemen Arrested For Burglaries

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Ten Cleveland police patrolmen were arrested Tuesday after being accused by a former policeman in a spree of burglaries. They faced lie detector tests in an effort to clear themselves.

The patrolmen were questioned singly by Inspector Richard Wagner, and at least three agreed to take the test.

Their accuser was William Marlowe, 40, an 11-year veteran of the force, who was caught in a police trap the day before.

Marlowe was nabbed as he left a West Side lumber company with $67 he had taken from a safe purposely left open. The money had been dusted with fluorescent powder which made Marlowe's hands glow under black light.

Before resigning from the force, Marlowe named the 10 fellow members of the Third Platoon as having received money from the burglaries. Marlowe said that in two instances a 28-year-old patrolman aided him in hauling safes from stores and breaking them open in a coal yard with instruments stolen from the yard.

Police were put on the patrolman's trail by Marlowe's partner, who became suspicious of his activities. This led to the entrapment at the lumber yard where Marlowe admitted he had netted $480 in an earlier burglary.

The wholesales arrests led Maynard and Ralph Locher to order that all available personnel be assigned to the case to "check out every lead thoroughly and to handle this matter with toughness so that the bad apples are promptly removed from the police department."

The patrolmen were arrested Tuesday as they came off duty on the night shift. Police Chief Frank Story confronted the accused men with their accuser in his office. He read off the charges in a signed statement by Marlowe implicating them in 16 burglaries since 1961, for a total of $2,500.

Each man denied the charges and one of them shouted as he was taken upstairs to be booked.

"He's a damned liar."

Lingering Storm Moves Northward

HATTERAS, N.C. (UPI) — A lingering Atlantic storm that has caused nearly $1 million damage moved northward Tuesday to give the middle Atlantic states a taste of its fury.

The storm, which has been rampaging along the coast for more than a week, has done most of its damage to date in north Florida and on North Carolina's Outer Banks.

Three Florida counties—Nassau, Duval and St. Johns—were declared disaster areas Tuesday as a result of tidal damage caused by the disturbance. The designation permits homeowners, business firms and other organizations to apply for federal rehabilitation loans.

A late weather bulletin on the disturbance placed the center of the storm about 150 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C. Highest winds were estimated at 55 miles an hour near the center and winds of 30 m.p.h. or higher extending out about 200 miles.

Forecasters said it was moving on a north-northeastward course at about 5 to 10 miles an hour.

Sport Club Party Dec. 12

The usual Christmas jingle party of the Woman's Sport Club will be held December 12 at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

Members are to bring food donations for the Christmas basket. They also will exchange jingles. Mrs. Veronica Schleifman and Mrs. Frances Aman are cochairmen for the basket project.

A Christmas program featured the meeting of the Twiggton Homemakers Club, held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Walter Bender. It opened with the group singing, "O Come All Ye Faithful," and the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Charles Frost was in charge of the program. The group read, "At Christmas Time," by Gamilia Brittle. Mrs. Fred Chamberlin read Edgar Guest's "A Safe Deduction." Vickie Baker and Linda Slider presented "The Night Before Christmas." Gary Slider sang "The Christmas Tree" and Linda Slider recited a poem, "The Christmas Alphabet."

Short cuts to Christmas shopping were given in roll call. They included, make a list, start early, plan gifts suitable for the age of the recipient; and to save time, give money. Mrs. Betty Slider told the story of the hymn, "Good Christian Men Rejoice." She said this carol was written by Heinrich Suso, a Dominican monk of the 13th Century, who while very ill experienced a vision of angels whose leader had sung, "In Dulci Jubilo." John Mason Neals wrote the words for the English version.

Mrs. Baker announced an all-day meeting of the County Council to be held at Bowing Green fire hall, December 6. She urged the executive council and members to attend. A discussion followed concerning the importance of club members and chairman attending county meetings to keep the local clubs informed of county projects and bring back educational material for the club. Plans were completed for remembering an invalid in the community at Christmas. Mrs. Mason Glover installed Mrs. Ronald Baker as vice president; and Mrs. Walter Stafford, secretary.

The group sang, "Silent Night" and "Little Town of Bethlehem." Jingles were distributed and refreshments were served in keeping with the holiday season. The house also was decorated in the Christmas motif.

Guests were Mrs. Blaine Robinette, Miss Pearl Wilson of the Flintstone club; and Mrs. Edgar Matthews. Other members attending were Mrs. Louis Hampton, Mrs. Perrin Rinker, Mrs. Harry Odgers, Mrs. John Reuschel, Mrs. I. C. Drake, Mrs. Ora Thompson, Mrs. Wade Rice and Mrs. J. Nelson Willison.

European Trains Fast, On Time, And Plentiful

By RALPH VILLERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the biggest and pleasantest surprises to first-time American travelers in Europe is the consistently good, high-quality and on-time train service.

European railways generally are fast, clean, comfortable and well-patronized—the latter fact not so in this country where practical disappearance of customers has halted hundreds of runs.

Consider how many trains you can take a day out of your home town contrasted to the more than 400 passenger trains daily that pass through the great cavern that is the railroad station in Cologne, Germany.

Enchanting to Americans are the compartmentalized passenger cars still in abundance. Sliding doors, opening off a car-length passageway, lead in to solid comfort for six people. It is not exactly private, but is far removed from the entirely open passenger cars in this country in which a baby crying at one end can disturb sleep or conversation at the other.

Compartments are giving way on some of the big name trains to open style coaches. But even then the comfort and elegance is something to marvel.

The Swedish State Railways in keeping with Scandinavian design traditions, is running coaches in which the seats are not seats in the old sense, but Swedish modern furniture with wooden legs and colorful fabrics. And spaced so the uncramped traveler doesn't mind how long the journey takes.

The Trans-Europe-Express trains—marked by the big, distinctive "TEE" on the nose of the streamlined locomotives, set a standard probably unequaled anywhere. From big, roomy coaches, through an intimate little bar in which an international crowd gathers to chat, the diners offering vintage wines, the TEE is a fast and luxurious way to get about Central Europe.

European railroads have service to let you take your car right along with you, if you feel you must. The German Railways sell a round trip ticket in the Rhine region that lets the

Condemnation Suit Filed

The State Roads Commission has filed a condemnation suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against a Westernport couple and the County Commissioners.

The suit was filed against Leonardo Simonelli and his wife, Maria, of 104 Railroad Street, who own a lot which Joseph Caturvey conveyed to them by deed dated August 14, 1947.

A check for $9,500, which the SRC feels is a fair value for the property, has been deposited in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of the court.

The property, which is subject to a lien of real estate taxes levied by and due the county commissioners, is needed for the relocation of State Route 135 through Westernport toward Luke.

River Runoff Report Given

A. A. Vickers, engineer in charge of the U.S. Geological Survey office here, yesterday released a report on runoff conditions of the Potomac River and a review of the meteorological situation for November.

Vickers said that due to conditions which affect area streets in the winter months the reports will be suspended until spring.

The mean daily flow of the Potomac River at Cumberland during November was 1,239 cubic feet per second, 801 million gallons per day, which is 219 per cent of the 33-year November average.

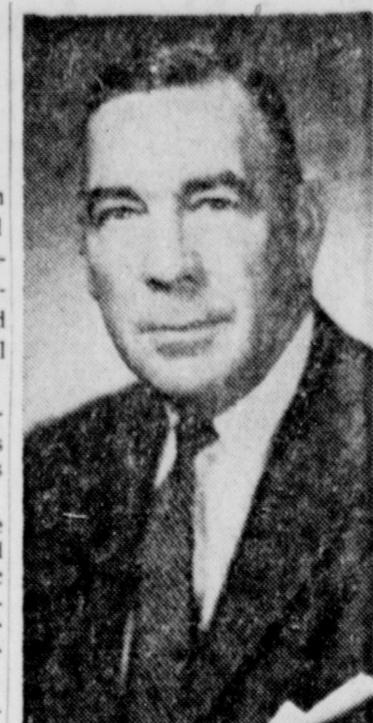

Daily flow varied from 296 million gallons on November 9 to 2,346,000 gallons on November 11. Included in the monthly mean was 34,300 gallons from Savage River Dam, which was 4.3 per cent of the flow at Cumberland.

The total precipitation here, as reported by the Weather Bureau, was 3.28 inches, .90 inches above the November average. The average daily temperature was 40.8 degrees, which is 1.5 degrees below normal.

Doctors Want MAA Extended

Two major improvements in the Medical Assistance to the Aged program have been recommended by the Medical and Surgical Faculty of Maryland. The inclusion of nursing home care and provision for flexible income limits in the MAA program have been approved by the faculty's council and both recommendations have been forwarded to the State Health and Welfare departments.

According to Charles F. O'Donnell, M.D., faculty president, these recommendations will provide better care to the elderly at less cost. Many of the elderly now occupying space in hospitals can be cared for more economically in nursing homes, and the availability of nursing home care would free hospital beds for other patients.

Income limits for the MAA program are presently graded according to the number of people in the applicant's family, and separate income scales are provided for rural and urban residents. The faculty's recommendation would remove these fixed limits and allow regional welfare directors more flexibility in approving applications.

Dr. O'Donnell stated that the recommendations were the result of informal surveys of the medical community in Maryland, and that they reflect the individual physician's experience with the program after 18 months of operation.

Dr. O'Donnell added that the faculty members were pleased with the operation of the MAA program to date, and that they would continue to do their part in improving the care offered under MAA and other state care programs. He also praised Maryland's physicians for continuing to provide in-hospital physicians' services to medical care patients without charge.

The MAA program was begun in June 1961, following the adoption of the nationally enacted Kerr-Mills Act by the General Assembly. It provides home and office care by physicians, hospital care, drugs and special supplies to nearly 12,000 people over the age of 65.

Secrets Of Charmby John Robert Powers*You Can "Walk Away" With Honors

You'll never be tempted to try to cover a lack of inner confidence with an exaggerated walk if you acquire a comportment that reflects calm. And your assurance will grow and grow with each friend and admirer you gain by it!

A poised walk is so uncomplicated and simple that you'll never believe it until you try it. It's yours, if you'll just:

1. Swing your step from your hip joint, keeping your knee relaxed but not doubled up in a bend. And make your step long enough so the space between each step is the length of your foot.

2. Keep your chin level with the floor. Move your head only when there is a reason for so doing—there should be no flitting of either eyes or head.

3. Hold your shoulders and hips still as you move. This will be easy to do if you pull up to your full height at all times. Be sure, also, to limit the movement of your hands to meaningful or useful gestures. If necessary, clasp them or keep them in your pockets until they are convinced that you mean it!

Take just these small precautions and you will give to your world a picture of serenity. Then

The bidding:
East South West North
1 ♦ 1 ♠ Pass 2 NT
Pass 4 ♦ Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♦

Profitable use of an intermediate card led to a quick decision for the declarer in today's hand.

When North showed signs of strength by jumping to two no trump over his partner's one spade overcall, South removed any further pressure by proceeding directly to four spades. Observe that a mere rebid of three spades would not be forcing, inasmuch as South is not the opening bidder.

The jack of diamonds was opened and the suit continued by the defenders until the declarer ruffed in on the third round. South observed that he could produce the required 10 tricks provided that either the clubs broke evenly or that a trick could be developed in hearts. Inasmuch as the club distribution would eventually reveal itself, he decided to work on the hearts first.

After drawing trumps in three rounds, declarer led a heart and, when West followed with the trey, South inserted the nine from dummy, forcing out East's queen. The diamond return was ruffed in the closed hand, and the dummy was re-entered with a club in order to lead the king of hearts thru East. The latter covered with the ace, establishing North's jack of hearts as the game fulfilling trick.

Why did declarer take such a deep finesse in hearts originally? He had mentally assigned the ace and probably the queen as well to East as part of the values required for his opening bid, since he had shown up with only the ace and king of diamonds so far. On this basis, it would be proper to put in the nine of hearts from dummy in the hope that this would force a high honor and establish the king and jack as equals.

South's play would have succeeded in the present instance even if West had held the queen of hearts and East the ten, for West will be unable to protect all of his assets. When South plays the fifth round of trumps, West must blank his queen of hearts in order to protect the club suit. Declarer now enters the dummy with a club and, by leading the king of hearts thru, he is able to bump the ace and queen thus establishing the jack.

Keeping Up With Hollywoodby Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — "Flabbergast-er," but a cordial one. They had Thanksgiving together at their home in Arrowhead and went to a party the next night for Tony Franciosi.

My money says it will snow in Tahiti before there's a divorce.

Talked with Peter Glenville in Palm Springs who told me he was going to New York to meet Sir Alex Guinness on Friday to discuss "Dylan" which he'll direct on Broadway this fall starring Guinness.

"Alex hasn't been on Broadway in 12 years, since 'The Cocktail Party,'" Peter told me. "He's quite excited about doing 'Dylan' which is the story of Dylan Thomas, famed Welsh poet."

"Alex has first to star in 'Fall of the Roman Empire,'" he went on, "and while he's making that film I shall be directing the screen version of 'Becket'."

I was interested to learn that the backers of "Dylan" are two young men from San Francisco, George W. George and Frank Granat, apparently not afraid to tackle Broadway. With Glenville and Guinness, why should they be?

Terry Moore tells me that her role and Ann Seymour's have been written out of the "empire" TV series because it is being slanted to more rugged he-man action. And before I could tell her I was sorry, Terry said, "my husband (Stuart Cramer) is so happy I'm out of the show he's all but jumping up and down."

That's understandable when you recall that "Empire" is shot entirely on a ranch location in Santa Fe, which made it rough on Cramer who commutes between Hollywood and Panama where he and Terry make their home.

Meanwhile, Richard Egan holds down the star spot in "Empire" all by himself. When women do appear, they'll be guest star spots.

Last Fire In Baltimore Pike Area August 10

It may be tempting fate to advertise it, but Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company hasn't had a fire call for nearly four months.

The last call, on August 10, wasn't really a fire. A furnace pipe came loose, filling a Bean's Cove house with smoke.

Even during the autumn forest fire season, when most fire companies were out beating brush and dousing grass fires, Baltimore Pike's phone didn't ring. They hope this will last.

Donald Ware, president of the company, said the absence of fires "shows that the people in the area served by the company are really fire conscious and have done a wonderful job of fire prevention."

Peaceful Use Of Atom Forecast

It is a spectacular picture Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, paints of the 1980s.

Peaceful applications of atomic energy, first harnessed 20 years ago, will in the next two decades, Dr. Seaborg says, bring manned expeditions to other planets, colonization of polar regions, and tremendous advances in agriculture and medical science.

Less grandiose, but no less intriguing, are his predictions of inexpensive, durable and fashionable clothing made of paper, self-lubricating metals, nuclear-powered automobiles and home-size computers capable of translating foreign languages and figuring income taxes and family budgets.

But the AEC chief accompanies his forecast with a grim warning. Unless the world achieves a controlled ban on nuclear weapon tests, he says the coming decades will see the development of destructive armaments even more frightful than those of today.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Get The Economy Moving

The greatest single impediment to the forward movement of our economy is taxes. There are other impediments, such as the operations of government bureaucracy, the tendency to develop bureaucracy in industry, the loss of initiative by in-house seniority in management, feather bedding in labor, etc., etc. We are an old economy, not bombed into new life by war, as West Germany was; not forced by economic desperation to reverse its methods as Great Britain has done. Besides, we have a moribund banking structure, including SEC controls which tend to stabilize risk to a point of standstill.

However, today we shall limit ourselves to taxes. In the United States, the tax is used as a government medium to promote virtue, redistribute the wealth and to regulate business behavior. It is none of the Tax Collector's business.

Taxes are an impediment to growth under the capitalist system. The smallest tax impedes growth. However, a government requires money to service itself and the tasks assigned to it. Therefore, a government taxes.

The question that arises is how much of a tax outgo can a people tolerate without retrograding economically. In Communist countries this is answered by the government ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange. The people toil for the state on the terms which the state lays down. Human labor is not only not free; it is not a commodity; it is a device owned by government.

Taxes under such a system can only be an additional payment over and above whatever accrues to government out of profits.

In our system, where private enterprise is permitted to function without government competition, taxes are paid by industry only on profits. If taxes take too large a share of the profits, too little remains for new ideas, for research and development and for growth. Because of industrial and personal and after-death taxes, the trend is sharply in the direction of mergers and monopolies. Whereas the Department of Justice seeks to break up monopolies, taxes force small enterprises to get under the umbrella of larger enterprises to prevent their profits from being dissipated in taxes.

But there is the further point that the method of collection may work as great a hardship as the amount collected. The only adjective that fits the American method of collection is brutal.

This was to an extent brought on by those who are chiselers. They have tried to live on their expense accounts and pay as little taxes as possible. In effect, they are thieves. The Tax Collector, to deal with a few thieves, therupon hopes to set up a sure-proof tax collecting device which is so rigid that it may bring less revenue than was expected because it will do harm to the liquor, the amusement and the restaurant business, large sources of revenue. If a salesman takes a customer to the theater in New York, he probably also takes his wife and the salesman's wife or girl-friend or what have you. That, in New York, with dinner, kills a $100 bill or thereabouts.

But under the new proposed arrangements, that salesman has to say, in detail, how and why he spent that business deduction. And so he has to involve his wife and the what have you, and maybe they will want receipts and some guy who eats a salami sandwich for lunch will ask, "Do you have to give that customer a bill to get an order?" I saw some figures from a trade letter which estimates that this plan of stricter expense account reporting will take $250,000,000 out of circulation that by the normal turnover of money represents $3,000,000,000 (billion). Maybe these figures are high or low—they are an estimate and a guess, but they do represent the general view of those in the liquor, amusement and restaurant industries. Some put it much higher.

The Tax Collector is obviously trying to enforce the law, but with very bad judgment. He is increasing the bite on the individual while total revenue is decreasing. The graduated income tax is an unscientific tax under any circumstances. Cruelly collected, it falls most heavily on the lower brackets. Twenty per cent of an $80 salary is actually a larger bite than 90 per cent of an income of a million dollars a year. The latter still has $100,000 a year to spend, whereas the stenographer gets a take-home envelope of $64 a week, plus one deduction, which is a deep cut. It takes common sense to collect taxes and the law needs to be implemented in such a manner as not to kill the fatted goose—the American standard of living.

'Of Course There's No String Attached'

Is Compulsory Unionization 'Democracy'?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Russians have a way of calling their government a "democracy." They interpret the word as meaning a system in which their government imposes anything it considers good for the people even if this invades individual rights.

If there were some kind of award given annually in recognition of the courage of an employer who stood up for the right of his own employees to decide for themselves as individuals whether they want to join a union, such a badge of merit ought this year to go to the Lockheed Company executives. In the present dispute all wage issues have been settled by collective bargaining with a recognized union. The employer has merely declined to agree to an election that could bring compulsory unionization. If the non-union men wish voluntarily to join the union they can always do so.

Yet how long can Lockheed hold out? The Defense Department can exert pressure and threaten to withdraw defense contracts unless the company conforms to the political objectives of an Administration which counts on the votes from labor unions at the polls and the benefits derived from big campaign contributions collected by the union officers. Members of Congress are complaining that the Administration has already exerted pressure in the aircraft industry to help the unions. Why does a labor union want the minority included? After all, the law provides that wage rates cannot be discriminatory and must be the same for union and non-union employees. The answer is that the labor unions want more dues money. Once a worker joins a union, the next step is to demand the "check off" of dues, which, by agreement, the employer can be required to deduct just as the government requires with respect to taxes on payrolls. More and more the labor union becomes, on its own, a system of government which decides also how much pension money shall be set aside from each worker's pay, irrespective of whether or not the sums subtracted fit his particular financial problems.

The usual argument made in favor of compulsory unionization is that the worker is benefited by the union's negotiations. But many a worker will dispute that claim, especially when a union demand for wages is so high that the economic disturbance created compels the employer to lay off workers whom he might otherwise retain.

The labor unions are on the spot when this subject is viewed in the light of the "civil rights" battles of today. Many a labor union has voted by majority rule to exclude Negroes from membership.

National labor leaders are protesting against this on the ground that the minority have rights of their own. Certainly the unions can't have it both ways.

The right of the individual to negotiate for a job is conceded to him by the union — so it is difficult to see how the union, in collusion with an employer, can justly take away the right of the worker to stay in his job so long as he performs his work satisfactorily. This definition will be accepted by all believers in true democracy. The "tyranny of the majority" has been condemned throughout history as too often inimical to individual freedoms.

the California governorship. Anything that happens in the area of political recapitulation reminds Washington of Nixon.

It was obviously with Nixon in mind that Sen. Homer Capchart, Indiana Republican who was defeated for re-election in one of the major upsets, cracked to reporters as he returned to Washington office.

The collection consists of steel engravings of every President of the United States from George Washington through John F. Kennedy. Under each picture is a genuine signature of each President.

Joeelson's display was made possible through the efforts of a business constituent who is an avid collector of autographs. He supplied some of the most rare specimens to the exhibit to make it complete.

The Congressman prizes the collection so highly that he isn't going to risk letting it stand unguarded during Congressional recesses. He moves the exhibit to his office in Paterson, N. J., when Congress adjourns.

NIXON'S FAREWELL — The capital is still discussing the reverberations of Richard M. Nixon's bitter farewell to the press upon his defeat in the race for Current speculation is that Nixon's supporters may well find a way to run him for the Senate from California in 1964 when Democratic Sen. Clair Engle's present term expires.

Carbon Tetrachloride And Alcohol Don't Mix

hol enhances the toxic effects.

These warnings are timely at this season of the year for two reasons. It is cold outside and we are not inclined to open the windows when dry cleaning clothing or taking out stains.

Cocktail parties are common during the winter season and some find on arriving home they spilled something on their suit, dress, or tie. They go after the carbon tet immediately, and the trap is set for real trouble.

A closed room, alcohol in the blood, and the inhalation of carbon tetrachloride fumes is more than the kidneys can take.

These organs may go into a state of failure from which recovery is possible, but not without leaving scars.

The initial symptoms of carbon tetrachloride poisoning are headache, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and abdominal pain. It is surprising how quickly distress appears and how little of the solvent need be inhaled to bring on toxicity.

Kidney damage may progress to the point where no urine is produced. The victim is given certain fluids to stimulate the renal organs. Should this fail, the artificial kidney must be attached until the swollen and damaged kidneys recover. Liver damage is more serious but is less likely to occur from inhaling carbon tetrachloride.

Chronic poisoning may result from inhaling small daily doses over a long period. The membranes of the eyes and upper respiratory tract often become irritated and the victim may suffer from headache, sleepiness, and fatigue; later, abdominal pain is noted, accompanied by watering of the tissues and urinary disturbances.

Modern cleaning establishments are aware of this problem and many of the coin operated stores

WVU Students Participate In ResearchKeyser, Oakland Men Included

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—West Virginia University students from Keyser and Oakland, Md., are included among 10 young male students selected to participate in a recently-initiated research project which may contribute to a better understanding of how amino acids, fatty acids and glucose function together in human metabolism, according to Dr. Elizabeth Yearick, associate experiment station nutritionist and leader of the project.

Among the 10 human guinea pigs are Richard Rawlings of Keyser and Kenneth Martin, the Marylander from Oakland.

Dr. Yearick said that specially-prepared test meals will be fed the young men. Resulting changes in amino acids, fatty acids and glucose in their blood serums will indicate the amounts of these nutrients absorbed into the blood, modified by the amounts provided by the body processes of synthesis and clearance.

Each of the six test meals will be the same as far as the number of calories is concerned. Two levels of protein will be used, one of the first conducted anywhere to study the combined action of amino acids, fatty acids and glucose together. Other researchers have conducted studies which involved a single nutrient. Dr. Yearick said the information collected in this research may lead to knowledge that will make possible more efficient use of protein in the human diet.

Dr. Yearick will be assisted by Richard Nadeau, research assistant.

Moose Planning Spaghetti Supper

FROSTBURG—Nick Quartucci, governor of Lodge 348, Loyal Order of Moose, announces that a spaghetti supper will be served at the Moose Home on Saturday from 4 until 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Quartucci will prepare the supper and will be assisted by the Women of the Moose. Money derived from the supper will be used to defray the cost of the new home.

Water Report Given

The water level in Lake Gordon is 4 feet 6 inches below the crest of the spillway and in Lake Koon 13 feet below, a report by Ray Nixon, water plant foreman, to the Mayor and Council showed Monday. Consumption for the week ending Sunday was 84,030,000 gallons compared to 82,940,000 for the same period a year ago.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Preston, city workers will be granted an extra day of vacation the day before Christmas. This will give them a long weekend as the day falls on Monday, December 24. It was pointed out that a half day was usually granted and that it would be useless to have the men off two days, bring them to work for a half day then have another day off.

Two ordinances were passed by council. An ordinance to regulate and control the pickup, delivery and disposal of garbage and trash in the city of Frostburg and penalty for violation of $100.

Mr. and Mrs. Quartucci will prepare the supper and will be assisted by the Women of the Moose. Money derived from the supper will be used to defray the cost of the new home.

Righthanded pitcher-infielder Dave Bruce of the Hot Stove League's championship Kiwanis team was the first of 117 players chosen last night in the Recreation Baseball League's annual draft, conducted at the Moose Home.

Manager Herman Zembower grabbed Bruce for his Forty & Eight team which finished last in the Recreation League the past campaign. The league, for boys between the ages of 15 and 17, is the fourth phase of the City Recreation Department's youth baseball program.

Most of the managers went for pitchers in their first round selections. The only exception was John Hardinger, skipper of the champion Curl's Camera Shop club, who got sixth choice and picked third baseman Timmy Scaletta of the Outdoor Club.

The other first round selectees in order were William Seeders, Lawrence Wolfe, William Deffenbaugh and Stanley Twigg. All hurlers, they were drafted respectively by Bernstein's, VFWF, Toy Shop and Gurley's.

Bruce paced Kiwanis Club to the regular season championship as well as the playoff title of the Hot Stove loop. He posted a 9-2 pitching record during the regular season and won three without a loss in the playoffs, including a 2-0 shutout over Outdoor Club in the championship battle.

Seeders, who plays the infield in addition to working on the mound, had a 5-7 record with the sixth-place Jaycees. Deffenbaugh and Wolfe both pitched for Salvation Army, winding up with won-lost marks of 10-4 and 4-2, respectively. Twigg was a pitcher-outfielder for last place Cumberland Optimists.

Frostburg State Cagers Score 72-66 Win Over Potomac State

George Lauder Gets 27 Points In 2nd Victory

Winner's Foul Goals Start Winning Rally, Dave Felton Gets 29

Sparked by the shooting of George Lauder, who accounted for 27 points, Frostburg State College registered its second victory of the basketball season by trouncing Potomac State College's Cataumtans last night at Keyser by the score of 72-66.

Potomac State held an 8-point advantage at halftime, 43-35, but was outpointed 37-23 in the second half.

After the score was tied at 58-58, Hank Winner put the Bobcats ahead to stay by sinking two foul shots to start an eight-point rally before the Cataumtans got back in the scoring column.

Lauder, who dumped in 22 points against Baltimore University in the opening game of the season, slammed in eleven shots from the field and meshed five consecutive foul shots in last night's game. Bill Wilton contributed 14 points to the winning cause and Jim Thompson collected an even dozen tallies.

Dave Felton was Potomac State's chief point-maker with a total of 29 on 11 fielders and 7-10 at the charity stripe.

The score was knotted five times during the contest at 16, 18, 20, 26, and 28.

Pingley and Courier of the Cataumtans fouled out.

Potomac outscored the Mountain City team 27 to 26 from the field but Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's team converted 20 of 26 free throws while the home team sank 12 of 23 shots at the 15-foot mark.

The victory was Frostburg's third in a row over Potomac State, having swept both games last season.

FRED HETZEL got away to a rousing start in his debut with the Davidson College varsity quint by scoring 47 points in the first two games of the season.

He chalked up 25 against Erskine, playing a little more than half the game. Then against the Duke Blue Devils he tossed in 22 points before fouling out with 12 minutes and 41 seconds left to play.

SHIPPENBURG Teachers College spoiled the debut of Carl Hartman, former Ridgeley High and Alderson-Broaddus College great, as coach of Shepherd College by whipping the Rams from Shephardstown Saturday night in Pennsylvania by the score of 73-57.

FROM what he said on the radio during his visit here Thanksgiving Day, Bill Hahn thinks football played by his Wheaton High School team is better than ours but I doubt this very much even though their school is much larger than ours," says Ed Schwarz, Allegany High School grid mentor.

"Before we scheduled Altoona Catholic several years ago we had open dates and tried to schedule Hahn and Roy Lester, who coaches at Richard Montgomery High School in Rockville.

"Roy answered my letter, explaining their schedule was full but Hahn did not bother to answer although he had one of the same dates open that we were without an opponent. Yet he went and scheduled Westminster and Frederick."

Coach Schwarz has sent the following letter to coaches Hahn and Lester:

"We have open dates in football next year (1963) on October 11, November 1 and November 15. Would you be interested in playing Allegany? We could pay you a nice guarantee or set up a home-and-home arrangement."

TOWSON Catholic High School, winner of the Alhambra Invitational Basketball Tournament here in March, will take part in the O'Connell Tournament at Arlington, Va., during the Christmas holidays and will return to Cumberland to defend its title after the regular season is concluded.

Towson won 21 and lost 10 games last season.

HAROLD LAMBERT, West Virginia outdoors writer, says:

"Tucker County is expected to provide enough deer for the biggest harvest since the shoot-off in the early Fifties when it seemed that 'everyone' in West Virginia went there to hunt deer."

"Tucker is the only county in the state which was actually shot out, say the deer folks. Several things contributed to this."

"It was in the big crater-like Canaan Valley that the hunting was easy. Here in waist-deep ferns, deer could be spotted in herds like cattle and you could keep shooting at them while they ran for half a mile, so level was the ground."

"It was like hunting game on the plains of Africa where you can empty a rifle with the target in plain sight."

"The result was that hunting camps were built, hunters returned and brought friends and the deer were pretty much harvested."

Steeler Suffers Heart Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Linebacker Rudy Hayes of the Pittsburgh Steelers suffered a heart attack Tuesday while hunting with two teammates near Uniontown, about 50 miles south of Pittsburgh.

A spokesman for the National Football League club said Hayes' condition was considered serious.

The 26-year-old, four-season veteran of the NFL became ill while hunting near the Maryland border with center Buzz Nutten and defensive halfback Clendon Thomas. Hayes was rushed to Pittsburgh by ambulance and was admitted to St. Clair Memorial Hospital.

When a last-second shot by Paul Neumann rimmed the basket and fell out, the Nats claimed that Neumann was fouled on the play but referee Mendy Rulolph ruled the foul came after the final buzzer.

They originally were charged with tampering with 10 games between Dec. 5, 1959, and Jan. 7, 1961. However, Judge Heman Clark dismissed charges in two of the games for lack of evidence.

SPEED BEATS BROWN --- By Alan Mauer

MAURY WILLS, LOS ANGELES DODGERS SHORT-STOP WHO STOLE THE N.L. MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD, NOW HAS TO BEWARE THE BANQUET CIRCUIT DOESN'T STEAL HIS SPEED.

BY TED TROXELL

There's one thing you can say for certain about the Bruce High Bulldogs this year — they won't have to look up to any of their opponents. In fact, the boys from Westernport will be peering down at their adversaries.

Bruce has the tallest player in the area this year in 6'8 1/2" Glenn Ray, plus a few other elongated lads who could enable Coach Leonard Ritchie to floor a quilter averaging 6-4.

While the Bulldogs are long on inches, however, they're short on experience and will have to develop rapidly during the early stages of the season if Bruce is to be a serious contender for area cage honors.

Only one player (6-5 senior Mike Shay) saw any degree of service on last year's WMI championship club, the whole starting five of which was wiped out by graduation and ineligibility because of age.

Shay Can Drive

Shay, who was sixth man for the Bulldogs last year, began rounding into form late in the season and Ritchie believes he may come along quickly once he gets a taste of varsity competition.

Gary Smith, a rugged 200-pound southpaw junior who will fill one of the forward spots where he'll be a big lift. Shay's ability to drive for the bucket is considered his strongest point.

The real giant on the Bruce squad is Ray, who packs 215 pounds on his 6'8 1/2 frame. This big boy, who played junior basketball last season, can shoot well but is slow defensively. Ritchie believes he may come along quickly once he gets a taste of varsity competition.

Woman Dies In 3-Car Accident

Mrs. Herman Sindy Is Killed, Four Others Are Hurt

A 35-year-old Paw Paw, W. Va. woman was killed and four other persons including her husband and daughter were hospitalized last night with injuries sustained in a three-car accident on Maryland Route 51 about 17 miles east of Cumberland.

Dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Louise (Herman) Sindy.

Admitted to the hospital were Herman F. Sindy, 41, her husband, who is reported in "serious" condition; their daughter, Cathy Ann Sindy, 12, who is reported to be in "satisfactory" condition.

Also admitted were Harold W. Power, 45, of Paw Paw, driver of one of the vehicles, who sustained a laceration of his scalp and a fractured hip and is in "fair" condition; and Glenda Riley, 17, of Paw Paw, who sustained contusions and abrasions and was admitted for observation.

Tfc. Charles T. Snow said Howard D. Hayes Jr., 19, of Paw Paw, who apparently was not injured, was driving in the direction of Paw Paw when he had a flat tire.

He pulled to the berm of the road and began to change the tire.

Meanwhile, a car driven by Power, also headed toward Paw Paw, struck the Hayes car, continued down the highway on the wrong side of the road and hit the Sindy car, which was traveling toward Cumberland.

The ambulance and pumper of Paw Paw Volunteer Fire Company went to the scene. Two of the injured were taken to the local hospital in the ambulance and the volunteer firemen washed down gasoline which spewed onto the highway from the wrecked cars.

Two passing motorists took the other injured persons to the hospital. The accident occurred about 7:10 p.m.

Three Reserve Units In City Inactivated

Three County Army Reserve units will be lost under a sweeping reserve revision announced by the Defense Department yesterday, but the National Guard 29th Division will remain untouched.

The 26th Ordnance Company and Company D, 3d Battle Group, 34th Infantry, 79th Division, will be inactivated. Company B, 366th Military Police Battalion, will be relocated and thus lost.

The 729th Army Postal Unit will be retained, and a new ordnance company will be formed.

Authorized reserve strength in Maryland was cut from 8,144 to 6,604, a loss of 1,540 on paper. But the reserve force already is below its authorized strength, standing at 6,448, even less than the new order authorizes for 1963.

The Defense Department order virtually wipes out the 79th Division, which has about 600 men in Baltimore alone.

But the National Guard is another story. While the reserve is wholly under federal control, no changes can be made in the Guard without the approval of Gov. Tawes.

Brig. Gen. George M. Gelson, executive officer of the Maryland National Guard, said the 29th Division, of which all area guard units are members, will not be affected by the proposed Guard reorganization.

Gen. Gelston said Gov. Tawes has decided not to approve the Guard cut until after a governors' conference is held sometime after next Monday, when state adjutants general will be briefed at the Pentagon.

Chamber Fetes New Teachers

Two representatives of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce are shown conversing with two of the new teachers in Allegany County and James H. White, vice president of the Allegany County Teachers Association, just before the Chamber's second annual teachers' recognition dinner last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Teacher-Pupil Ties Can Never Be Replaced

Some 40 new teachers in the Allegany County public school system were told last night that despite all of the new developments in educational techniques the significance of the teacher-pupil relationship can never be replaced.

These words came from W. Fred Mowen, division superintendent of the Western Maryland Railway Company, in the main address at the second annual teachers' recognition dinner of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mr. Mowen urged the new teachers, who were the guests of honor at last night's dinner, to become active in the community through associations in clubs and churches and by becoming voting citizens.

"Precious Thing"

While many changes are being made in education to meet the continuing and rising needs of students, the teacher-pupil relationship in the classroom remains a precious thing.

He urged new teachers to challenge their pupils to highest attainment and concluded by pointing out that the quality of teachers determine the quality of schools.

The meeting ended with a response from Larry Hopcraft, a seventh grade social science teacher at Beall Elementary School, in behalf of the new teachers. He urged the members of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce to make a point of seeing "what we are doing in the schools" and cooperate in making the future an era of excellence.

William A. Howard, chairman of the chamber's business education committee, served as master of ceremonies. He extended a welcome to the new teachers and introduced several officials who made brief responses.

Make Responses

These responses came from Karl W. Bachman, president of the Chamber of Commerce; James H. White, vice president of the Allegany County Teachers Association; J. Goodloe Jackson, president of the County Board of Education, and Ralph W. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Mr. Jackson presented two other members of the Board of Education who were present, Mrs. George M. Young and T. Donald Shires.
